The future of senior housing will be drastically impacted with the addition of 50 million over 65-year olds by 2050. How will the industry meet the housing needs of this population given their current business model and long-term problems with social security and Medicare/Medicaid? What is the industry doing to anticipate their demands? How will it change to meet these needs?

The future will bring many challenges and opportunities for savvy investors and developers. Come hear our group of experts and senior housing developers debate the future of senior living.

Moderator: Edward James Keledjian, Chairman, Real Estate Investment Assoc.

Panel: Brian J. Robinson, Managing Director - Healthcare, Fifth Third Bank
Bob Gawronski, Vice President of Development and Acquisition, Senior Lifestyle Corp.
